

Electrical Maintenance

Category of job:
Historical

Here at Abbey we work very closely with a well-known historical conservation society. We help maintain many well-known historical sites all over the country. Some of the sites include churches, castles, stately homes, and monumental buildings.

As a majority of these buildings are listed, occupied and open to the public we must ensure a very high standard of work, organisation, communication, presentation, and safety no matter how big or small the project may be. As all our work and engineers are on show every time we enter one of these properties, we offer well-presented staff that take pride in their work that potentially thousands of people will see on a daily basis.
