Working very closely with the client this pioneering recycling project delivers gas into the National Grid from household waste. Design and build for Abbey, requiring extensive flexibility and research as there were no similar projects to benchmark from. Working in parallel with our sister company, Abbey Fire & Security the work included:

- Extensive work on the mains including new switchgear
- New lighting throughout the site including emergency lighting
- Control wiring
- Machine & plant supplies
- ATEX work
- Full new L1 fire detection system

It was critical to deliver this scheme against a tightly defined programme & budget. Our team received consistently high feedback throughout from the client. Works were completed on time & on budget.
